Senator Stanford Explains His Loan Bill.

An Easy Method of Increasing the Sup-Currency.

Mr. Stewart Vigorously Opposes the Lodge Elections Bill.

The Caucus Relief Measure Ordered Reported to the Senate-San Francisco's Postoffice Site-Notes.

own bonds, which while entirely good between banker and Government, strengthened the security of the billholder, which rested at last upon the authority of the Government.

Mr. Stanford continued:

The scheme of the bill is to supply an ample amount of money for business purposes. I have mentioned tands as security because they appear the best and the most certain of all security, and are sufficient to furnish all the money needed. The people, I think, will have more confidence in a financial measure that is new and radical, if it has at present land only for a basis. The rate of interest on these loans on real estate is fixed at 2 per cent, in the bill, but in time may be reduced, as experience shall teach. The rate of interest charged by the Government under the provisions of the bill will not necessarily fix the general rate of interest for business purposes. That will always be determined by its value in use. A farmer having this, the best of security, will borrow for his own use, or the use of others who may be willing to pay him a satisfactory interest. The banker borrows money from the Government free of interest, and loans it at such a rate as its use commands in the market.

This measure has been compared to the plan adopted in the Argentine Republic for ioans on land, but there is no analogy between the two, and to compare the workings of a measure of that republic of, say five millions of population, to that of our country, with its enlightened sixtytwo millions, would be like comparing the methods of some irresponsible banker to those of the Rotnschilds. The bill fills the standard for the amount so long as money can be profitably used at 2 per cent. Mr. Stanford continued:

the standard for the amount so long as money can be profitably used at 2 per cent. per annum. The ability of the Government to make money being unlimited, the real wants and necessities of the people can be ascertained and met. The foundation of the whole matter and the real question to be considered is that, inasmuch as the Government reserves—the right to issue money, it is its duty—means being provided—to furnish what is necessary to the prosperity of the people.

and Messrs. Bates and Gibson argued against it. Mr. Stewart made an argument against the bill on the ground that the attempt to execute it in the South would be disastrous to both races. He was a friend of the colored races. He was a friend of the colored man and deeply sympatbized with him, but could not ask him to put his life in jeopardy in order to fight a political battle for his (Stewart's) advantage, fle. was equally a friend to the white man, and desired to refrain from any act which might justify the white man in making war upon the defenseless race which Congress enfranchised. Whatever was done in the matter of the prorection of the suffrage in the South, unless done through the voluntary action of the people of that section, would have to result in one of two things: If the negro was protected by force the same force would inevitably be driven to the necessity of destroying his the voluntary action of the people of that section, would have to result in one of two things: If the negro was protected by force the same force would inevitably be driven to the necessity of destroying his enemy. Unless Congress was disposed to proceed to the remedy, under the Constitution (that of denying representation on account of exclusion from, or obstacles to, the exercise of the franchise) the only remedy that existed was in the enforcement of the laws already on the statute books, and in the assurance that no pressure from the outside would be exercised. ing a District of Columbia bill, took up the conference report on the bill amending the act for the division of a portion of the Sioux Indians in Daportion of the Sioux Indians in Da kota into smaller reservations. The only change made is an authorization the expenditure of an appropriation of $100,000 made for the pur-chase of beef or other rations. In speaking of the measure Mr. Allen of Mississippi took occasion to criticise Congress for doing nothing to relieve the financial stringency of the country, and expressed his belief that the President has done wrong and shown his littleness in at tempting to bulldoze the Senate. He quoted the remark of a lady fond of decorating her parlor with sculpture, to the effect that she was going to se-cure a life-sized statuette of President Harrison. The report was agreed to and the House adjourned. NEW MEASURES.

Four Indian Murderers Executed in Montana.

The History of Their Brutal and Unprovoked Crimes.

A Canadian Sheriff Dies When About to Conduct a Hanging.

The Excitement of the Occasion Causes an Attack of Heart Disease-Negro Muraderers Executed.

By Telegraph to The Times. MISSOULA (Mont.,) Dec. 19.—[By the Associated Press.] The greatest hanging which ever took place in the North west occurred this morning when Lala See, Pierre Paul, Antley and Pascale, four Indian murderers, were hanged at the Courthouse here. All died game, Pierre Paul and Antley smilingly bidding their friends good-bye. Twenty minutes after the trap was sprung all were dead. Their necks were broken. The crimes for which the four Indiams were hanged were most brutal and cowardly. Pascale killed a pros-pector named J. M. Dunn in the spring of 1889, near Damersville. Dunn traded horses with him and when be refused to trade back the Indian shot him, taking his horse and what money he had. Pascale hid the body in the brush, where the bones were discovered a few months later by another Indian, to whom Pascale admitted the crime. The bones were identified by remnants of clothing, and Pascale was arrested.

Antley's crime was his participation in the murder of three white prospectors, McDonald, Seely and Thompson, in the fall of 1887, at Wolf Creek, near Tobacco Plains. The prospectors were surprised at their camp fire by a party of six Kootenai Indians, and murdered in cold blood. Two of the Indians were captured soon after and lynched by the people of Damersville. Antley remained at large till last summer. Lala See and Pierre Paul killed two white men in August, 1887, and threw their bodies into Jack River, where they were found by a half-breed wo-man, who was cautioned by the mur-derers to say nothing about the bodies. She notified the authorities and the murderers were arrested last summer. The murder was unprovoked. The four prisoners were tried and convicted before Judge Marshall of Missoula last

DIED OF EXCITEMENT.

The Execution of a Murderer Proves
Too Much for a Sheriff.
Sherbrooke (Quebec,) Dec. 19.— By the Associated Press.] Sheriff Webb died suddenly of heart disease at 8:45 this morning. The excitement attending the execution of Remi Lamontagne was probably the cause. The death of the Sheriff delayed the execution but a few moments. Lamontagne was hanged at 9:26. The crime for which Montagne suffered the extreme penalty was an abominable one. One day in July, 1888, he went to the house of his brother-in-law, Napoleon Mi-chel, enticed him to the door, shot him twice, cut his throat, slashed his body,

The brother was convicted and hanged, as above stated.

the Thirty-sixth Precinct

The taking of testimony in the contested election case of Eowan vs. Forrester was re-sumed yesterday before Superior Judge containing the ballots from the other precinicts were intact and in the one which is open at the end an error of 20 votes is found in favor of the contestant. Howan, Yesterday morning six witnesses were examined: F. H. Walker, A. O. Blake, C. M. Baker, F. V. Bell, J. J. Flannigan, I. B. Mewton and C. Galpin. Some of the witnesses were officers of election in the Thirty-sixth Precinct, while others had been present and witnesses due count. The count was made after the polls closed, how the ballots were placed in the sack, and as to other details. They could not see how the count was made after the polls closed, how the ballots were placed in the sack, and as to other details. They could not see how the view of the possible made by them in counting up. For the time this testimony closed the case for the contestee.

On behalf of the contestant, Rowan, County Clerk J. M. Meredith and Deputies, F. B. Fanning, W. L. Warren and J. M. Dussmoor were placed on the stand. These parties all testified as to what had become of the envelope containing the ballots from the Thirty-sixth Precinct after it had been deposited with the County Clerk. None of them could see how it was possible for the envelope containing the ballots from the Thirty-sixth Precinct after it had been deposited with the County Clerk. None of them could see how it was possible for the envelope to have been tampered with as it may locked up in a room in the clerk's office.

The taking of testimony is not yet concluded and will be continued as it now stands, or if the vote has been don't be the county of the county o

Yesterday, after he had sobered up, he informed Home that he had not been drunk, and he belived a job had been put up on him. He also stated that he had been very kind to Mrs. Coulter and her family, and he wanted her as a witness to preve that he was not drunk when arrested. To show how friendly he had been with her he informed the officer that he had spent $115 in the house since he came there. He bought Mrs. Coulter a dress and some jewelry, and her son a fine suit of clothes.

It is very certain that the old man has made way with his money in some way for he only had $30 when arrested, and the officer is at a loss to know what has become of it.

The above notice in yesterday's Express gives an erroneous impression. The transaction occurred nearly two years ago. The house sent me over $800 worth of goods in excess of written instructions, as they did not have a lot of shirt waists, kilt suits and persey suits to the amount of $400 I ordered. They sent in place of the above over $800 worth of long pants suits after I had instructed them not to send them and wrote me stating what they had done, and gave the names of other houses that dealt in the same class of goods I ordered. They stated if I could not use the long pant suits I could return them, which I did. They claim they

But what is most peculiar of all is the condition in which the ballots in the Thirty-sixth Precinct were found when it came to the recount. JUDGE SHAW ILL.

For some ten days or so Superior Judge Lucien Shaw, owing to illness, has been unable to attend to his judicial duties. No court has therefore been held in Department Six and several important criminal prosecutions have been postponed. Yesterday the judge was reported to be very low. In fact, his condition was such that when Deputy County Clerk Knapp called to see him he was denied admittance to the sick room for fear his presence might excite the patient and further weaken him.

The judge's many friends certainly wish for his early and complete recovery.

BEET-SUGAR FACTORY.

THE BIG CHINO ENTERPRISE AN ABSOLUTE CERTAINTY.

The Contracts Signed and Bids to Be Advertised for at Once-The Works to Be Completed by August 1.

The big beet-sugar factory at Chino is now an absolute certainty, beyond the slightest shadow of a doubt. As is well-known, Richard Gird has been in San Francisco for some days past making his final arrangements, which were concluded Thursday, as will be seen by the following telegram:

telegram:

John Wason, Chino: Contract for Chino Valley Beet-sugar Factory signed. Work of construction will commence immediately and will be pushed to completion by August 1. Forty-horse steam plow ordered shipped at once. I expect to start for home tomorrow night.

ordered shipped at once. I expect to start for home tomorrow night.

RICHARD GIED.

This was confirmed yesterday by another telegram from Mr. Gird to his brother, William Gird, saying that the contract had been signed and that he would return home Su id y, when the work would be commenced at once.

William Gird was seen by a TIMES reporter last evening. The gentleman was in high spirits over the news, saying that his brother had been at work on this enterpties for the past three years and he was glad that it had at last resulted successfully. It was he said, the biggest thing of the kind in the country, and would result in great good to Southern California. The works will represent, when completed, including the main building and outhouses, an investment closely approximating a million dollars. They will be located at the southeast corner of the town of Chino, where a most eligible site has been selected. The main building will be 300 feet long by 100 feet wide, and all the outbuildings, including the refinery, will be on a corresponding scale. Over a train load of lumber will be used in the construction of the buildings, and the works, when in operation, will require from fifty to seventy-five tons of coal per day, and will have a capacity of 1100 tons of beets per day.

Mr. Gird said that bids would be advertised for at once, and the contracts let just as soon as possible, as the work must be completed by August 1, 1891. Richard Gird, he said, would at once plant 5000 acres to beets, and the works would have a sufficient capacity to take care of all that can be raised by neighboring farmers.

Outlook for Freight Business Flattering.

VHAT COL. HECHTMAN SAYS

Vice-President Crocker of the Southern Pacific on the Gould Combination-No Advance In Rates Probable.

Col. A. J. Hechtman, local freight agent for the Union Pacific, who has been in San Francisco and the Northern portion of the tate during the past few weeks, returned home yesterday on No. 19, and was seen a his office by a Times man. Mr. Hechtman found business improving up North, but it does not seem to have that healthy appear-ance that is noticable on all sides in this end of the State. He is arranging for a boom in the freight business during the coming season. The orange crop, which is just coming in promises to be much larger than it has ever been, and as the Eastern people are crying for early California vegetables, are crying for early California vegeta shipments in this line promise to be very shipments in this line promise to be very large.

During Mr. Hechtman's stay in San Francisco he did not hear anything about the threatened changes in the general offices of the Southern Pacific, and thinks he would have heard somethink if there is any truth in the report that Mr. Towne will resign almost immediately.

MR. CROCKER ON THE COMBINE. Vice-President C. F. Crocker of the Southern Pacific, in an interview with a Chronicle reporter a day or two ago, speak-Southern Pacific, in an interview with a Chronicle reporter a day or two ago, speaking about the Gould combination, to which eighteen roads now belong, said that though the new association has not been organized, there is little doubt that it will be in a very few weeks, because the parties to the existing agreement are the presidents or vice-presidents of the roads whose action has still to be, and undoubtedly will be, supported by the boards of directors of the several companies. The Southern Pacific company was the last to join, because the Gould memorandum had been passed round before C. P. Huntington left San Francisco, and all had signed it before he arrived in New York. The first thing done at the meeting in Mr. Morgan's house was the presentation of the signed memorandum, and the only important road not down was the Chicago and Alton. This company, Mr. Crocker says, is more than likely to join, as it would be inexpedient to remain out.

The fact was pointed out that local shippers entertain the belief that the combination has been in order to raise rates. This Mr. Crocker pronounced an unreasonable assumption. He further stated that as a matter of history an organization of this kind has never been formed to raise rates. Such organizations have lowered rates on the error with trade means to injure the business of the carrier, and so to defeat the ends for which the increase is made."

Questions as to whether the combination has been formed with a view of repealing made."

Questions as to whether the combination had been formed with a view of repealing the anti-pool clause of the Interstate Commerce Act, Mr. Crocker said that though the law may be amended, such amendment will not follow as the result of the organization.

It was clear all along the line of the Southern Pacific yesterday, and all the trains were reported on time.

The Santa Fé overland due here from the East yesterday afternoon was reported ten hours late, on account of heavy rains in New Mexico. It will bring in a big Raymond excursion.

The Pomona special over the Southern Pacific will be put on as soon as the new time-table can be arranged. Pomona is growing so rapidly that the company found it absolutely necessary to put on an extra train.

A. J. Finley, local agent of the Southern Pacific at Santa Barbara, died at that place yesterday morning of consumption. Mr. Finley was 55 years of age, and has been with the company over twenty years. He was a good railroad man, and has a number of friends among the boys. His successor has not yet been selected.

AN AMERICAN MOVEMENT DE-

The status of affairs [political the United States at this time makes it essential for the Republican partyif it has any desire to continue in power—to look about it and get abreast of the sentiment of the country.

That it has been the policy of the party to lead in the past is a patent

In the great cause of it took the Nation out of the depths of darkness and despair into the sunlight of emancipation. From the abyss of war, the bloodiest that ever saturated the soil of any continent, it brought the nation into a permanent and prosperous peace. From the chaos of finance, which existed during the period of wild-cat banks, it evolved a matchless financial policy which has been the wonder of of the world. It has cared for the men who were maimed and sickened in the war as a kind father provides for his children. and at all times when a question of good government has arisen which demanded attention and consideration, the Republican party has been its gallant champion until the country has come to look to it as the reformer of abuses and the leader of advanced thought in politics and the science of a government of, for and by the people.

Today a question presses which can no longer be evaded or trifled with. A great majority of the people of the country demand of this party of progress that it take up the question America for Americans! The priceless heritage of American soil must be kept for the children born upon it. The tide of undesirable immigration which has poured its polluting stream into the body politic of the Nation must be stayed. The American workman must be protected against the importation of debased and chear labor, as the American manufacturer is protected against the importation of articles manufactured by this cheap of its fast plate perfecting press, labor in the lands beyond the seas.

The first step in this direction was taken when the policy of restriction of Chinese immigration was entered upon That movement was demanded by the united sentiment of the Pacific States of the Union, because it was here only that the urgent cause for such restriction was felt. The people arose and with one voice said, not that 'the Chinese must go, but that the Chinese must not come." That cr was too penetrating to go unheeded and the acts for the restriction of that class of immigration became the law of the land.

But time has taught us that this is not the only obnoxious immigration that lands upon our shores. There pours out of every steamer that lands at Castle Garden in New York a horde of foreigners who threaten the autonomy of this country more than ever did the almond-eyed little men who come from the land of Confucius, for these immigrants become voters and it is only a question of time until the foreign element will hold the balance of power in this country, leaving alone the question of the lowering of wages and the debasement of Amer ican labor.

Hence the people call upon the Republican party to take the initiative in this cause of so much moment-let there be placed in the next National platform a plank with an American the victories gained in 1890 by its opponents are likely to be repeated lymph the greatest medical discovery with such emphasis in 1892 that the of modern, if not of all times. That is a healthy growth when the country keeps pace with the city in its development, but it is never well when the city fills up at at the expense of the rural sections, and when all the industries and resources of a region are centered in its cities.

One of the most encouraging and promising features of our present growth is found in the activity which exists everywhere in our outlying rural regions. Our agriculturists and horticulturists were never busier or more hopeful than they are at present. And their productions are being called for from every part of the continent. We have a and what should such a land know of want? We have a land where everything can be made to grow, and what marketable productions? French Doctors Disagree as to the Power of Hypnotism.

By Telegraph to The Times. PARIS, Dec. 19-[By Cable and Asso-

Bompard for the purpose of ascertaining to what degree she was susceptible to the hypnotic influence. The prisoner ought again be put to sleep by mesmerism in order to revive her recollection of the facts occurring at the moment of the confession of the crime. According to the indictment, Eyraud had not been able to put Mile. Bompard asleep, yet she had been amenable to the hypnotic influence of Granger, having revealed the crime to him while hypnotized. For his (Liegeois's) part, if he were the judge, bearing in mind previous miscarriages of justice, he would rather cut off his right hand than pronounce sentence upon Mile. Bompard.

When the sensation that this declaration caused had subsided, the procureur asked by what scientific means it was determined whether hypnotic was determined whether hypnotic sleep is real or simulated. Liegeois replied that a subject really put to sleep can bear, without betraying any symptoms of sensibility to pain, pin pricks in various portions of the body. Dr. Brouardel was then called. He said that he had little esteem for the theories of hypnotism, and Liegeois's statements wanted scientific proof. Brouardel was not in favor of Brouardel was not in favor of again hypnotizing the prisoner. He did not wish to run the risk of letting the audience hear revelations that might be surprised out of the accessed.

Drs. Mollet and Ballet shared his views. They thought the crime too complicated to have been committed under hypnotic influence, and Mile. Bompard's counsel and counsel for Eyrand jointly requested that the woman be hypnotized in open court. The judges, after a consultation, refused Charges Fraud.

PORTLAND, Dec. 19.—[By the Associated Press.] Charles Barnes, a citizen of Kentucky, has filed a petition in the United States Circuit Court asking for the appointment of a receiver for the Northwest Fire and Marine Insurance Company. The case was called in the court today. Barnes alleges that he is the owner of 125 share of the original capital stock; that the board of directors have maintained and kept false accounts for the purpose of deceiving, misleading and deluding the stockholders and State officers; that on October 20, the directors levied an assessment of 50 per cent. on the subscribed stock, giving fourteen days only to pay the same, well knowing that, owing to the financial stringency, the holders must forfeit their holdings, and that when the forfeit would occur the directors; would be given an opportunity to buy in the stock; that the affairs of the corporation did not warrant such action save for the aggrandizement of personal interests; that the business of the corporation can now be wound up with but slight loss to the stockholders, but if further conducted, will result in a loss to the stockholders. Secretary of State Mc-Bride examined the company's books November 29, and his examination shows the total assets of the company to be $264,823; liabilities $113,482. of the original capital stock; and yet at the theater the other evening did I not see Ward McAllister's own daughter in a small white Leghorn, covered with roses and rosettes of black velvet ribbon? The Duchess of Marlborough is only recently English, but she was doing some Christmas shopping at the fan counter one morning this week in a little cap-like, white straw bonnet with a roll of brown velvet about the face, and brown velvet roses. The most noticeable combination yet, however, was presented by a young woman at dimer at Delmonico's, who, when she suffered her wrap to slip from her pretty shoulders, appeared in a silvery Eventy shoulders, appeared in a silvery Evilian Russell, it may or may not sirk, crowned by a flat gray straw hat, circled with the same dark fur that bordered her gown. These strange winter growths seem to differ from those which blossomed in the glad summer time only in a certain modesty of size. Are the seasons getting mixed, or the wits? Yet straw bonnets were in high fashion at Christmas geventy-five years ago.

A NEW BUSINESS OPENING FOR WOMEN. In Boston there is a little shop which is called the New England Kitchen. It is really a college settlement of a very peculiar kind. If you happen to be there at noon, as chanced to me last Monday, you will see a strange and motley procession of pitchers, pails and cans brought by men, women and children of many nationalities. The little shop is run by college girls, some of them, indeed, belonging to that very aristocratic Saturday Morning Club which kept the Hub discussing its performance of Antigone last winter. It is needless to say that these young women have not gone into a commercial experiment with money-getting as its single object, and yet they are probably developing a new business opening for women. They are cooking and selling certain cheap and nutritious foods. It is really a coilege settlement of a Sanitary cranks are always trying to induce people, especially poor people, to eat what is good for them, but these girls went about their novel undertak-ing in a very practical way; they be-gan making beef-stew and pea-soup in plain view of customers as an object lesson in methods and in cleanliness; lesson in methods and in cleanliness; this was scientific cooking. They invited the coöperation of buyers by tasting and commenting; this was effective, if not scientific catering. They really got a cosmopolitan flavor that suited the whole neighborhood, and induced it to turn up with the pitchers, pails and cans aforesaid, in a ambers almost embarrassing. The kitchen was started in order to distribute practical knowledge of healthful living, and to this end was put on a sound business basis, not one of charity. To give an example of the every-day wisdom of its prime movers, they have been preparing a kind of evaporated milk, practically sterilized and yet cheap enough for tenement mothers to buy for tenement babies. The vender of antiques explained that the trinket was brought him by a man in London who was clever at such delicate workmanship, a black man and the son of a slave. Years ago his father had been stolen from Africa. He had gained his freedom later and had lived in Cairo, and the son had wandered all over the East, and, having much cunning with his hands, had learned many curious things, mong them much skill in the carving of ivory, an art that had caused him to drift westward finally.

The Collegiate alumnæ have now over 1200 members and are winning a position of influence as the organized body of women college graduates of the country. Fifteen colleges are represented in the association, Brys Mawr having just been admitted to fellowship. There is some ill-feeling among graduates of colleges not received over the atrictness of the Alumna rules, Mrs. Cleveland once refused to attend a meeting because Wells College was not recognized, but this winter nineteen different institutions have been rejected. The Alumna are bent on winning respect for degrees given to women, and admit within their pale only colleges which come up to a high scholastic standard. Matters Pertaining to the Holiday Trade.

More Business Done Than Last Year -Notes and Comment on Timely Topics-Personals-Batch of Brevities.

The stores with their bright array of Christmas novelties lead one to in-quire how the present holiday trade compares with that of last year. THE Times reporter started out yesterday morning to find an answer, and met that the wet holiday season of 1889 was to be repeated. Very few shoppers ventured out, and the day's business was most discouraging. Some of the stores that had contemplated keeping open during the eyening closed at 6 o'clock, because no buyers were abroad. One prominent merchant was met on his way home in a most discouraging frame of mind, bit-terly bewailing the nature of the weather and buoyed up solely by the contemplation of a corpulent cocktail as a bracer, when once ensconced in the seclusion of his household.

Yesterday, however, the streets resumed their wonted activity, and most of the stores did a thriving trade. One merchant, when questioned as to the situation, said that although the weather has been better than last year, that business has not been as encouraging. This he attributes to local aging. This he attributes to local residents dealing almost exclusively with Los Angeles houses. Another dealer said business was not as brisk as last year, but he thought the decreased trade was due to the fact that people have less money now than then —an interesting question which the assertion of the gentleman in question opens for discussion.

But such statements as the above were exceptional. The majority of the tradesmen expressed themselves as being entirely satisfied with the holi-day trade. Most of them said they have all the business they can attend to, and comparatively few complained that local patronage has been transferred to Los Angeles. If we have fair weather from now until Christmas, the holiday trade bids fair to be far larger than that of last year.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

Abusing Horses.

[Southern Cultivator.]
One of the most serious faults in a hired man is that of abusing horses, and yet one which many of them are guilty of. Any man who cannot use a team without abusing them should be promptly discharged.

Some teams of horses have more intelligence than they were telligence than the men who work them. But abuse of horses is by no means confined to hired hands. We have occasionally known a man whose temper was so violent that he could temper was so violent that he could not resist the temptation to abuse his team. When a man has trouble with his horses, and cannot manage them as well as he may like, in nine cases out of ten it is his own fault. There are but few horses that are not tractable and docile if they are-treated properly. It might be well for him to investigate the matter if he does not get along with the management of horses as well as he ought.

It is a matter of some importance to be able to handle horses properly, and a worthy motivo that prompts a man to become proficient in this direction.

Some of the most "generally accepted" ideas are among the most erroneous, and some of the most surprising things are among the most true. A WIDOW'S STORY.

Serious Charges Against Metzler and Harris.

DEED THAT IS MISSING

A San Francisco Woman Accuse Them of Having Violated a Some Property.

The San Francisco Chronicle of Thurs-

The San Francisco Chronicle of Thursday publishes the following:

"Mrs. C. Rappoid, a widow living at No. 724 Filbert street, applied at Police Court No. 2 for a warrant yesterday, and told a sad tale. She said that two and a half months ago she went to Theodore C. Metzler, a private detective, to have him pay the taxes on a lot in Los Angeles, which she valued at $500. The woman says she offered to give Metzler the amount necessary to pay the taxes, but he declined to take if. He said he wanted the deeds, which he would send to his partner in Los Angeles, Emil Harris, also a private detective, who would find out the amount of the taxes first, Mrs. Rappold returned next day and gave Metzler the deeds, which he said would be returned in a few days.

"The days grew into weeks and the weeks into months, and every time the weman pleaded for the return of her deeds Metzler assured her that it would be all right; that his partner was in possession of them. Mrs. Rappold became alarmed at the delay and wrote to the Treasurer of Los Angeles to find out the amount of her taxes, and to her surprise she received a reply stating that Emil Harris had paid the taxes and had the amount credited in his name.

"The woman claims that Harris and Metzler are endeavoring to defraud her of her property. She has a daughter 18 years old and a son 17 years old. Her husband, who died twelve years ago, was an old resident of Los Angeles, where he owned considerable property, but it was gradually sold by his widow, until nothing remains today but the lot which Mrs. Rappold maintains has been taken possession of by Private Detectives Metzler and Harris.

"As the courts had adjourned Mrs. Rappold dool not get a warrant, but will probably do so today."

EMIL HARRIS'S STATEMENT.

Capt. Emil Harris was seen last evening by a representative of The Times, and the Chronicle had any foundation he replied:

"As far as my having in any way attembted to deprive the lady of her lot is concerned there is not the slightest ground for even suspicion. I looked up the lady's property-tax and it cost me one dollar to find out the condition it was in. The result I reported to Mr. Metzler in San Francisco, and I suppose he reported it to the lady. "If she wants to investigate I will put up $500 with The Times, if she will come down here and look the matter over, and if the property is in my name she can have the money."

Only those transfers of $1000 and over are specified below. Those below $1000 are summarized at the end of the list. Friday, Dec. 19, 1890.

The Long Beach "Burglars."
An information was yesterday filed in Department One of the Superior Court, charging Frank Brown, Marion Thompson and John Charlton with burglary, which is is alleged, was committed at Long Beach or November 14.

These are the four young men who broke into the pavilion, while starving, to get some-thing to eat, and were detected in the act. It was shown that they had not taken any-thing except a few articles to satisfy their hunger, and considerable feeling was stirred up over their arrest at the beach. Redlands.

He says in this letter that he has olive trees on five different kinds of soil, and that those on black adobe give the best oil, and also the largest proportion of oil to the quantity of berries. He further says that he thinks adobe the best soil for any kind of fruit trees, provided the rainfall comes in such a way as to permit proper cultivation.

Lemon Culture.

Speaking of lemon culture, we are assured that the foothills of Sierra Madre and vicinity are most favorable for the production of this profitable fruit staple, and we wonder why more acreage is not planted. Some of the finest lemons grown anywhere are produced on this tract, and the crop should be increased. With proper care in culture and curing our lemons will always command good prices in the markets. In regard to profit, they seem to take the lead of any fruit grown. C. M. Clark, of Andrews & Clark, fruit buyers, packers and shippers, informs us that $2,500 can be realized yearly from one acre of sixyear-old lemon trees. They handle lemons for the market, and ought to know. Such being the case we should be inclined to plant the lemon for profit.

Irrigation is frequent, being practiced the year around. Trees are transplanted in September and February. Cleaning is done in December. Manure is used as a fertilizer. Young trees are set in large holes, which contain alternate layers of bone, clay, manure and sub-soil. Trees branch low, superfluous and weak wood cut away to allow circulation of air. Oranges ripen in November. They are cured by burying them separately under four to five inches of dry sand in a shady, well-ventilated place for a month or two. When taken out they will look fresh and keep six months. Fruit for shipment is wrapped in paper. Orange trees are planted twenty feet apart; lemons fifteen feet; limes twenty feet. Orange trees are propagated by seed, root shoots and branch cuttings. Fruiting begins five to six years from seed. ters of the parties, nearly all of whom responded, are probably the most convincing attestations that any remedy ever received. The following is a sample of those received:—

I have been subject to billous headaches and constipation for several years past; in fact, have been compelled to take a physic every other night or clse I would have a headache and dull, mean feeling. I have taken that bottle of Joy's Vegetable Sarsaparilla, and have derived great benefit from it, and intend continuing it. This is the system of practice which is now attracting the attention of the best physicians throughout every country in the civilized world, and truly wonderful are the results obtained after all other means have falled in accomplishing any good whatever.

ASTHMA.

It is a common error to suppose every disease which is attended by oppressed breathing to be Ashma or Pathisic. We have shortness of breath in Consumption and Preumouia, just as we do in Ashma, only that in these diseases it is always present, whereas in Ashma to occurs in paroxysms. Asthma is a spasmodic disease of the lungs, which manifests itsel in periodic attacks or "n.s." It comes on suddenly and is attended yeth great difficulty of broathing while it lasts, but when the strack is over the patient breathes almost as woll as in health.

Employsem is another and more inveterate form of Asthma, while Hay Fever or Rose Cold is a peculiar variety of Asthma which occurs at a certain season of the year. Rach of these forms of disease differ somewhat from the others in symptoms, but procincially these distinctions are of very little value. It does not unter to the patient which form of asthma he has, since his suffering is the example of the patient which form of asthma he has, since his suffering is the example of the patient which form of asthma he has, since his suffering is the example of the patient which form of asthma he has, since his suffering is the example of the patient as the precionation becomes yellow, and we call it bronchial. In another it is light and we call it dry. When he coughs up clear water with a white froth on the surface, we say he has Humoral Asthma. In Nervous Asthma there is very lit le expectoration of any kind. Hay Fever always begins as a crying cold in the head, or 'influenza, and a clear, water runs from the nose and the eyes before the Asthma fit comes on. In Emphysema the expectoration is generally thick, and continues so in the in erval between the fits, while the shortness of breath is fluenza. ASTHMA.

They are more liable to fall into 'on-cumption because they have the Asthma Another idea is that the Asthma itself is not a danger ous disease, and yet the oublished bils of mortality for this city prove to all who read them that great numbers lose their lives every year by this foul destroyer of our homes. Without courage and perseverance nothing is ourable. But with these, aided by proper and skii ful treatment, Asihma cau be cured even after the lungs are extensively discased. Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance from business whatever. Every case of Asthma is ourable. Eastern visitors and invalids will be wise in being oured before they return home.
